QSOLID

Quantum Computer in the Solid State

5
Years of Duration
(2022–2026)

25
German Project Partners

FSD
Full Stack Development

Paving the Way for the First German Quantum Computer

Key Objectives

- Quantum computer with improved error rates
- Ecosystem integrated into FZJ's supercomputing infrastructure with access for external users
- Make Germany a global leader in the field of quantum technology
- Maintain Germany's independence and open up numerous new applications in science and industry

SPONSORED BY THE
Federal Ministry of Education and Research

The QSolid project acknowledges the support of the Federal Ministry of Education and Research (BMBF) within the framework programme "Quantum technologies – from basic research to market".